FOOD MADE FAST Baking

Nothing brings a smile, and perhaps a fond memory, easier than the warm smell of something baking in the kitchen, whether it's a juicy blueberry cobber, a warm apple tart, or flaky buttermilk biscuits.

Baking at home is both satisfying and fun, but most people don't have the time to bake as often as they'd like. Celebrated author and baker Lou Seibert Pappas offers busy home cooks the chance to enjoy freshly baked goodies any day of the week in her new book, Baking, one of several cookbooks in the new Williams-Sonoma FOOD MADE FAST series. Here, Pappas shares sweet and savory recipes that can be pulled together in as little as 30 minutes or that require only 15 minutes of prep work.

Along with her delicious recipes, Pappas—who has written over 30 cookbooks—provides helpful tips and easy-to-follow techniques for both beginning and experienced bakers.

Expertly photographed, this collection of inspiring recipes includes both family favorites and new twists on classics, such as:

- Raspberry-Lemon Muffins
- Spicy Cornbread
- Oatmeal Chocolate-Chip Cookies
- Dark Chocolate Cake
- Pear-Custard Tart
